

Qur'an

If all Qur'ans in the world today were destroyed, the original Arabic would still remain. This is because millions of Muslims, called “hafiz” (or “guardians”) have memorized the text letter for letter from beginning to end, every word and every syllable. Also, chapters from the Qur'an are precisely recited from memory in each of the five formal prayers performed daily by hundreds of millions of Muslims throughout the world.

30 FACTS
ABOUT ISLAM

Download the PDF pamphlet for free and read all facts at:
www.30FactsAboutIslam.com

IMAGE BY YIM HAFIZ ON FLICKR